#	Business Name	Contact Person	Category	Priority
1				High
2				High

3				Med
4				Med
5				Low
6				Low

⚡ PRO TIP

Quality over quantity. Start with 5-10 highly qualified prospects rather than 50 cold contacts. Your conversion rate will be 3-4x higher when you personalize each outreach.

Qualification Criteria

Score each prospect from 1-5 on these criteria:

Criteria	Score (1-5)	Notes
Customer overlap (do they serve your target audience?)
Foot traffic (can they expose you to new customers?)
Non-competing (are you complementary, not competitive?)
Active marketing (do they have email list/followers?)
Partnership-ready (have they done co-promos before?)
Total Score	/25 20+ = Priority Partner

Co-Promo Offer Builder

Design irresistible partnership offers that benefit both parties. A great offer is the foundation of any successful co-promotion.

The 5 Types of Co-Promo Offers

1. Bundle Offer

Combine products/services into a package deal. Split the revenue or share the customer. Example: Salon + Nail Tech = Bridal Package

2. Cross-Promotion

Promote each other to your audiences. Share email lists, social posts, or referral codes. Low cost, high reach.

3. Event Partnership

Co-host workshops, pop-ups, or launches. Share venue costs and attendee lists. Great for community building.

4. Loyalty Integration

Add each other to loyalty programs. "Get 20% off Partner X when you mention Partner Y." Easy to track.

5. Referral Program

Pay commission for referrals. 10-20% of first purchase value. Ideal for service-based businesses.

BUILD YOUR OFFER — EXERCISE

Step 1: What do you offer?

What is your product/service?

What is your regular price point?

$ _____

What is your cost to deliver (approximate)?

$ _____

Step 2: What do they offer?

What is their product/service?

What is their audience size (email list, followers)?

What is their average customer value?

$ _____

Step 3: Design your offer (pick one or combine)

Offer Type: ☐ Bundle ☐ Cross-Promo ☐ Event ☐ Loyalty ☐ Referral

Offer Description:

Revenue Split: ☐ 50/50 ☐ 60/40 ☐ 70/30 ☐ Custom: ____%

Value to Customer: _____

Unique Selling Proposition: _____

Offer Value Calculator

Calculate the total value you're creating for the partnership:

Element	Your Contribution	Their Contribution
Product/Service Value	$ _____	$ _____
Marketing Reach (value)	$ _____ (X followers)	$ _____ (Y followers)
Co-hosting/Event Value	$ _____	$ _____
Data/Email List Access	$ _____ (X contacts)	$ _____ (Y contacts)
Total Partnership Value	$ _____ combined

Remember: The best partnerships create a "rising tide" effect. Both businesses should feel they're getting more value than they're putting in. Use the calculator above to ensure parity.

Outreach Email Scripts

Proven email templates that get opened, read, and replied to. Customize these scripts for each prospect to maximize response rates.

Email #1: The Introduction

Send this as your first touchpoint. Keep it short, value-focused, and easy to reply to.

SUBJECT: PARTNERSHIP IDEA — MUTUAL BENEFIT

Hi [Name], I noticed [Business X] and I think there's an opportunity to create something valuable together. I help businesses like yours [describe your value: "get more repeat customers" / "increase average order value" / "build community"]. And I think a partnership between us could benefit both of our audiences. Would you be open to a quick 15-minute call next week to explore this? I have a specific idea in mind. Best, [Your Name]

Customization Prompts

[Name] — Find their first name or the decision-maker's name. "Hey Sarah" > "Hi there"

[Business X] — Reference something specific: their recent event, new location, new service, award, etc.

[describe your value] — Use their language. If they mention "community" on their site, use "community." If they say "wellness," use "wellness."

[specific idea] — Give them a hint but save details for the call. Curiosity drives replies.

Email #2: The Follow-Up (3-5 days later)

If no reply, send this brief check-in. Don't apologize for following up.

SUBJECT: RE: PARTNERSHIP IDEA — MUTUAL BENEFIT

Hi [Name], Just following up on my note from [X days] ago. I know you're busy! The short version: I think a partnership could bring [specific benefit: "50+ new customers to your studio" / "a workshop that fills your evening slots" / "a co-promotion that reaches 5,000 local customers"]. If this doesn't fit your business right now, no worries. Just wanted to put it on your radar. Cheers, [Your Name]

Email #3: The Value-Add

Send something of value before asking for a call. This increases reply rates by 3x.

SUBJECT: [USEFUL RESOURCE] + PARTNERSHIP IDEA

Hi [Name], I found this [article/template/checklist/guide] about [relevant topic: "growing your fitness studio's waitlist" / "increasing salon rebooking rates" / "filling event spaces"] and thought of you. I actually wrote it for local business owners, and your feedback would be valuable. Would you mind taking a quick look? And while I have you – would you be open to chatting about a possible partnership? I have an idea that could bring you [specific outcome]. Let me know! [Your Name]

⚡ KEY INSIGHT

The best emails feel like a conversation starter, not a sales pitch. Your goal is to start a dialogue, not close a deal. Ask for a 15-minute call, not a "meeting to discuss possibilities."

 Email Performance Tracker

Instagram DM Scripts

DMs are personal and low-commitment. Use these scripts to start conversations that convert into partnership meetings.

DM Best Practices

☐ Engage first before DMing

Comment on their posts, respond to stories, build rapport. DM cold with context.

☐ Keep DMs under 150 words

People read DMs on mobile. Short = more likely to be read completely.

☐ Don't sell in the first DM

Start a conversation, then offer value, then pitch the partnership.

☐ Use their name/username

Personal touches increase response rates. "Hey Sarah!" beats "Hey there."

DM #1: The Warm Introduction

Use after engaging with their content. Reference something specific.

DM TEMPLATE

Hey @[username]! 🙌 I saw your post about [specific topic: "your new smoothie menu" / "the event you're hosting" / "your expansion"] – that's awesome! I'm [your name], and I run [your business]. I've been following your journey and noticed we have similar audiences. I have an idea that could bring value to both of us. Would you be open to a quick chat? I promise I won't take much of your time.

DM #2: The Value-First Approach

Offer something before asking for anything. High conversion rate.

DM TEMPLATE

Hey @[username]! 🙌 Quick question – are you currently doing any partnerships or cross-promotions with other local businesses? I'm reaching out because I created a [guide/checklist/template] specifically for [their niche: "fitness studios" / "cafes" /

"salons"] that I think could help you get more customers through partnerships. I'd love to send it to you as a thank you for your amazing content. Interested?

DM #3: The Question Hook

Start with curiosity. People can't resist answering questions.

DM TEMPLATE

Hey @[username]! Quick question: Have you ever thought about partnering with local businesses that serve the same customers as you? I ask because I just started a partnership with [type of business] and it's been amazing for both of us. [Specific outcome: "We've generated 30+ new customers in 2 weeks" / "I filled a workshop that was struggling to get signups"]. Would love to share the strategy if you're interested in exploring something similar!

DM #4: The Booking Request

After they've shown interest, use this to schedule the call.

DM TEMPLATE

@[username] I'm so glad you're interested! I'd love to jump on a quick call to chat through the idea. I have [2 slots available this week]: • [Day 1]: [Time options] • [Day 2]: [Time options] Which works for you? Or if those are tight, just send me a link to your calendar and I'll book something that works! Excited to explore this with you! 🎉

Revenue Split Worksheet

Fair revenue splits are the foundation of sustainable partnerships. Use this worksheet to calculate and negotiate equitable arrangements.

Common Revenue Split Models

50/50

Equal contribution. Equal split.
Best when both parties invest equally.

60/40

Lead partner gets more. Common for referral programs.

70/30

High performer gets majority. For performance-based deals.

⚡ NEGOTIATION TIP

Start with your calculated fair split, but be willing to adjust 5-10% for relationships you want to build long-term. A slightly unfavorable split for 6 months beats a perfect split that never happens.

Referral Partner Script

Turn your partners into referral engines with these scripts designed for ongoing referral requests.

When to Ask for Referrals

☐ After a successful co-promotion

"That event was great! Can we talk about how to expand our partnership?"

☐ When you solve a problem for them

"I noticed you mentioned struggling with [issue]. We've helped others like you."

☐ During natural conversation

Look for openings in regular check-ins.

☐ At partnership milestones

3-month, 6-month, annual reviews are perfect times.

Script #1: The Direct Ask

Use when you've built rapport and trust.

REFERRAL REQUEST

"Hey [Name], I've really enjoyed working with you and I think our partnership has been valuable for both of us. I was wondering – do you know anyone in your network who might benefit from [your service/product]? I'm not looking for just anyone; I'm looking for people who [specific ideal customer: "run a local fitness studio and want more members" / "have a salon and want to increase rebooking" / "own a cafe and want to drive more foot traffic"]. If you know anyone like that, I'd be happy to have a conversation and make it worth your while – I'm thinking [commission structure: "20% of the first project" / "a referral fee" / "a monthly credit for our services"]. Does anyone come to mind?"

Script #2: The Introduce Request

Use when you want them to make the introduction personally.

INTRODUCTION REQUEST

"Hey [Name], I know you've been really happy with how things are going with us. I'd love to expand what we're doing, but I also know you probably get a lot of requests. So instead of asking you to do the heavy lifting, could you just make an introduction? Something like: 'Hey, you should talk to [Your Name] about [problem you solve].' That's all I'd need – a warm introduction. And as a thank you, I'll make sure to [reward: "send you a [product/service] worth $X" / "give you 20% of whatever revenue comes from this referral" / "donate to your favorite charity in your name"]. Would that work for you?"

Script #3: The Linked Request

Ask for referrals linked to their own success.

MUTUAL BENEFIT REQUEST

"Hey [Name], we're always looking for new ways to grow our partnership, and I had an idea. You've talked about wanting to [their goal: "reach more health-conscious professionals" / "get more foot traffic on weekday mornings" / "attract higher-end clients"]. What if we made it part of our regular check-ins that I share any leads I come across that might be a good fit for you? And in return, you do the same for me. That way we're actively helping each other grow, not just waiting for opportunities to fall in our lap. Would that be something you'd be interested in?"

GIVE UP TOO EARLY

Your 7-Touch Follow-up Sequence

Space these out appropriately. Don't send all in one week.

1Touch 1: Initial Outreach (Day 0)

Send your first email or DM. See Email/DM Scripts section.

2Touch 2: Follow-Up (Day 3-5)

Brief, friendly reminder. Don't apologize for reaching out.

3Touch 3: Value Add (Day 7-10)

Send something useful — article, tool, resource. Ask if they got it.

4Touch 4: Social Proof (Day 14)

Share a success story or result. "We just did this with [similar business]..."

5Touch 5: Low-Pressure Check (Day 21)

"I wanted to check in one more time. If timing isn't right, just let me know and I'll stop following up."

6Touch 6: Referral Question (Day 30)

"Even if partnership isn't right for you, do you know anyone who might benefit?"

7Touch 7: Nurture Exit (Day 45)

"I'm going to remove you from my list, but here's my card if you ever want to reconnect."

TOUCH 5 SCRIPT (LOW-PRESSURE EXIT)

Hi [Name], I wanted to check in one more time before I stop reaching out. I know you're probably busy, and if now isn't the right time, I totally understand – just let me know and I'll remove you from my follow-up list. But if there's ever a time you're interested in exploring how we could work together, I'm here. [Brief value reminder: "We've helped [similar businesses] get X results" / "Our partnership approach has generated $X for our partners"]. No pressure. Just wanted to make sure you had all the info. Best, [Your Name]

TOUCH 6 SCRIPT (REFERRAL QUESTION)

Hi [Name], I hope you've been well! I wanted to reach out one more time, but this time with a different request. Even if a direct partnership isn't right for you right now, I'm wondering: Do you know any other business owners who might benefit from [your value prop]? I'm always looking to connect with more local businesses, and a warm introduction goes a long way. I'd be happy to return the favor – if you ever need anything from my network, I'm happy to help too. Thanks for considering it! [Your Name]
